PART 1 · INSTALL · STEP 4 OF 20

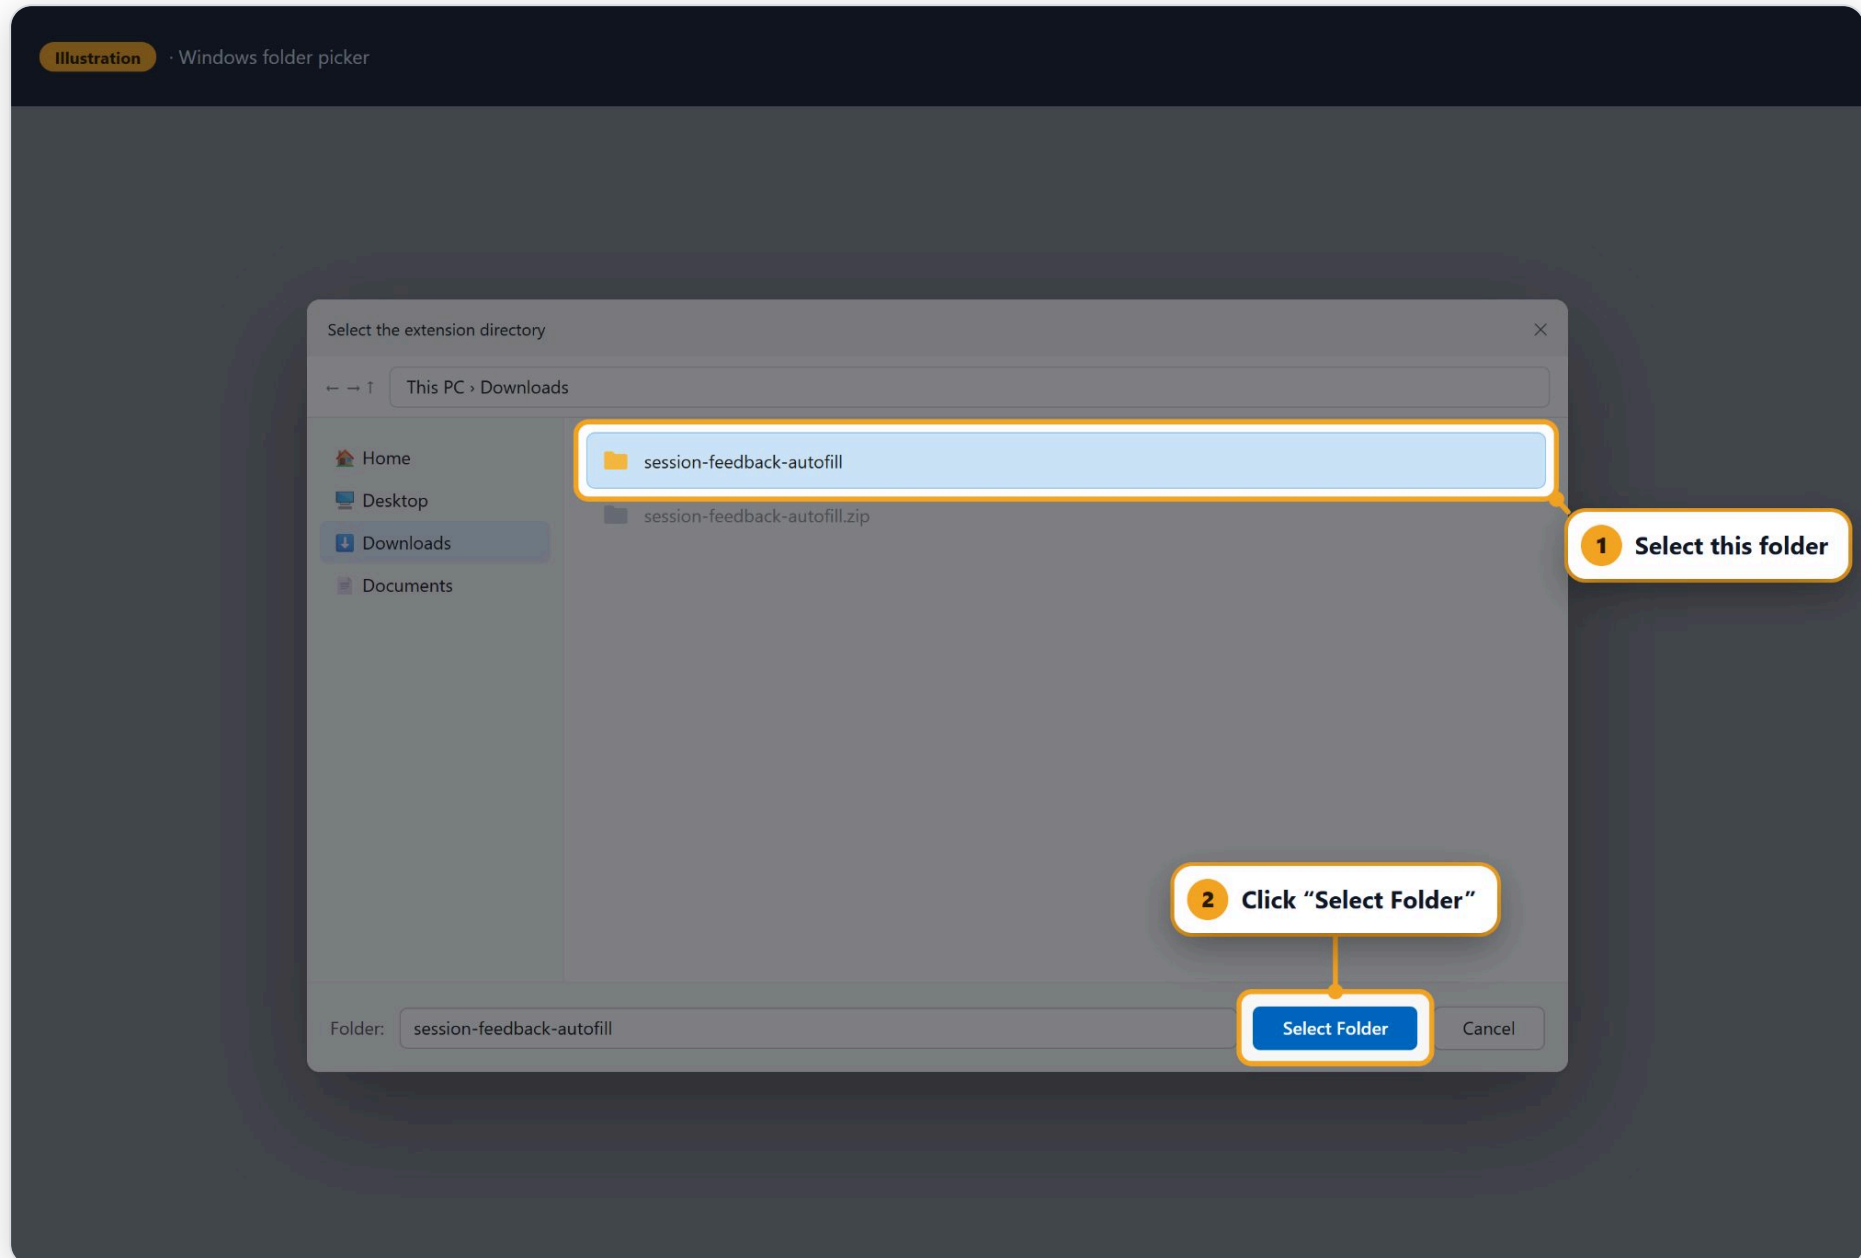

Click “Load unpacked”

A new button bar appears. Click Load unpacked.

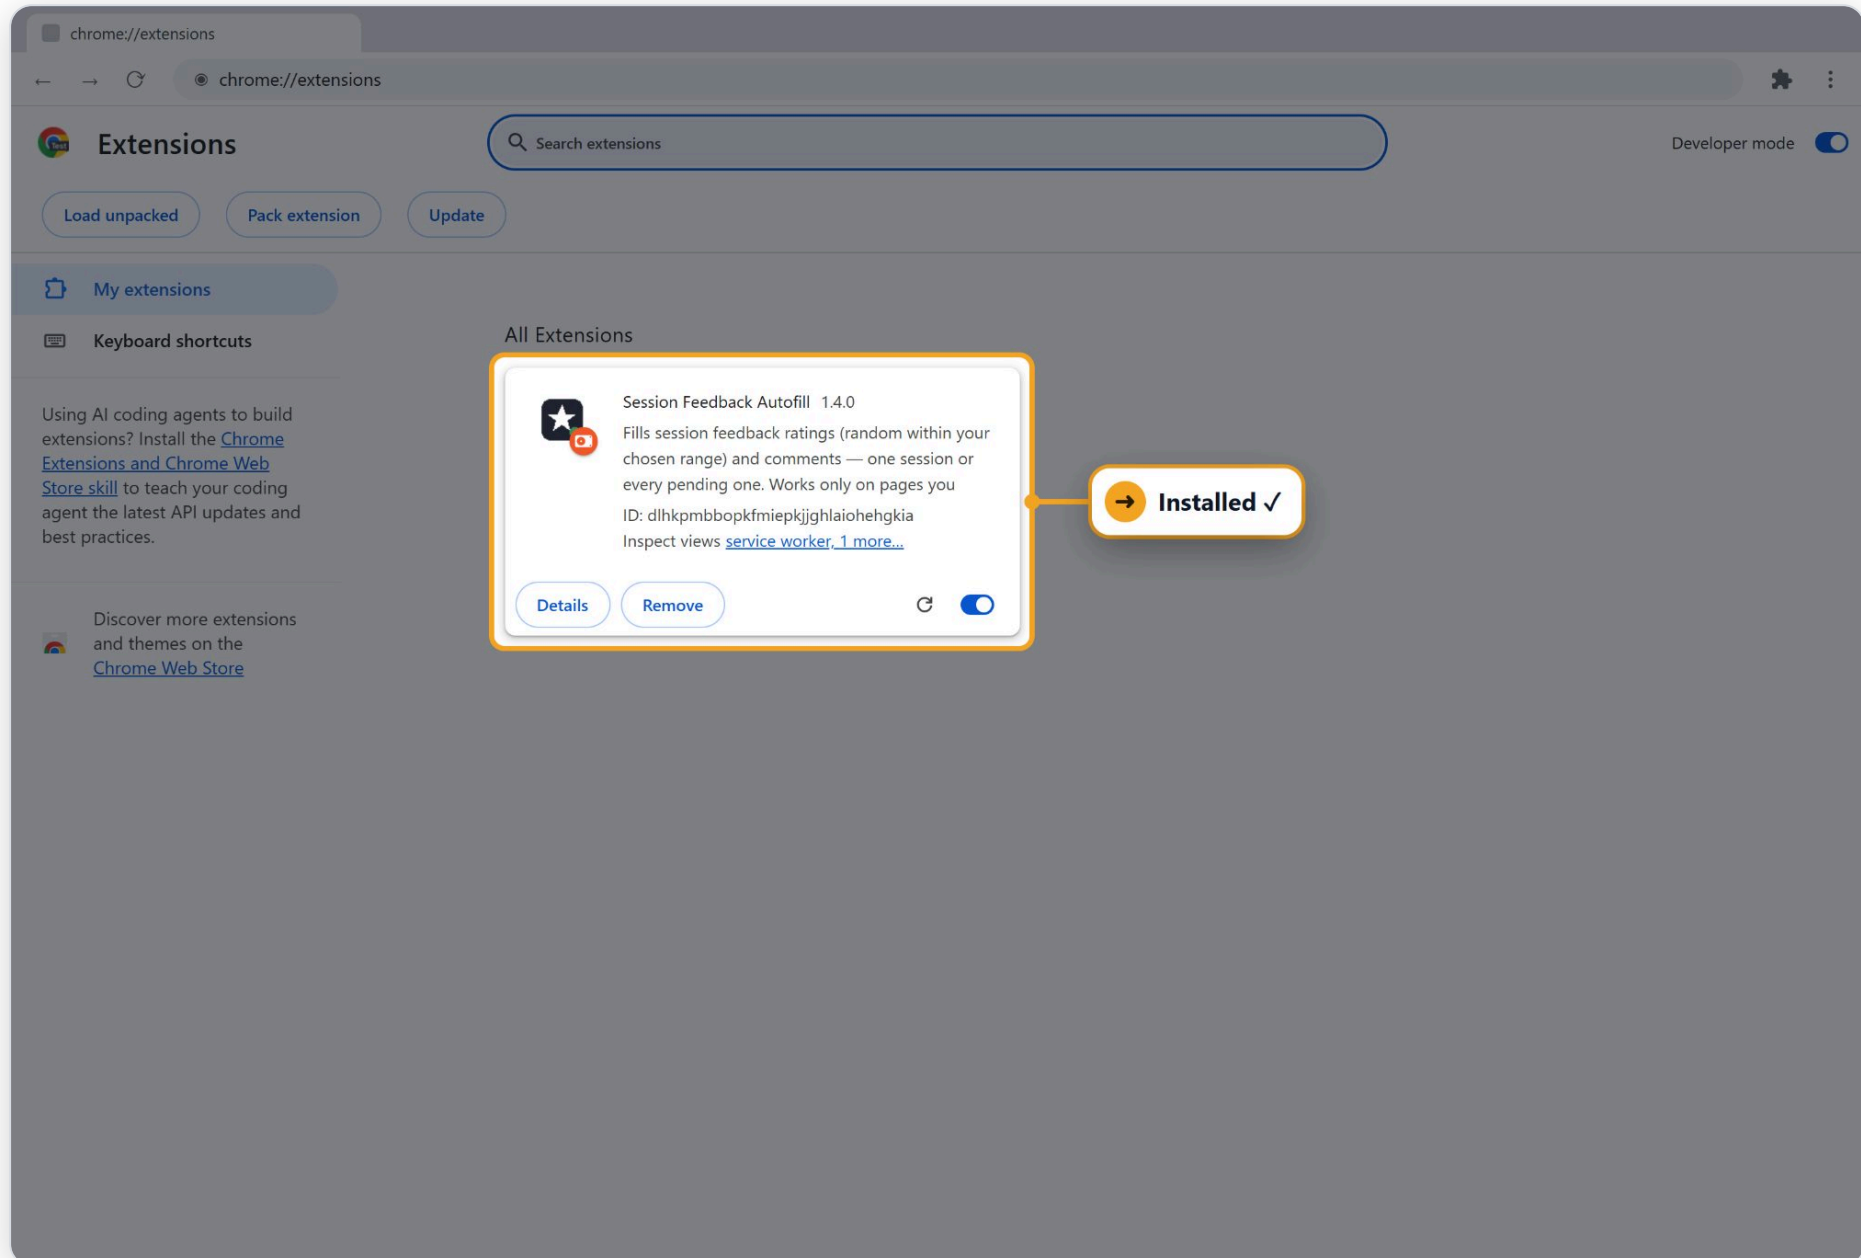

Pick the unzipped folder

Select the session-feedback-autofill folder you extracted (the one that contains manifest.json) and click Select Folder.

Installed!

The extension now shows in your list. A small “Start here” tab opens by itself.

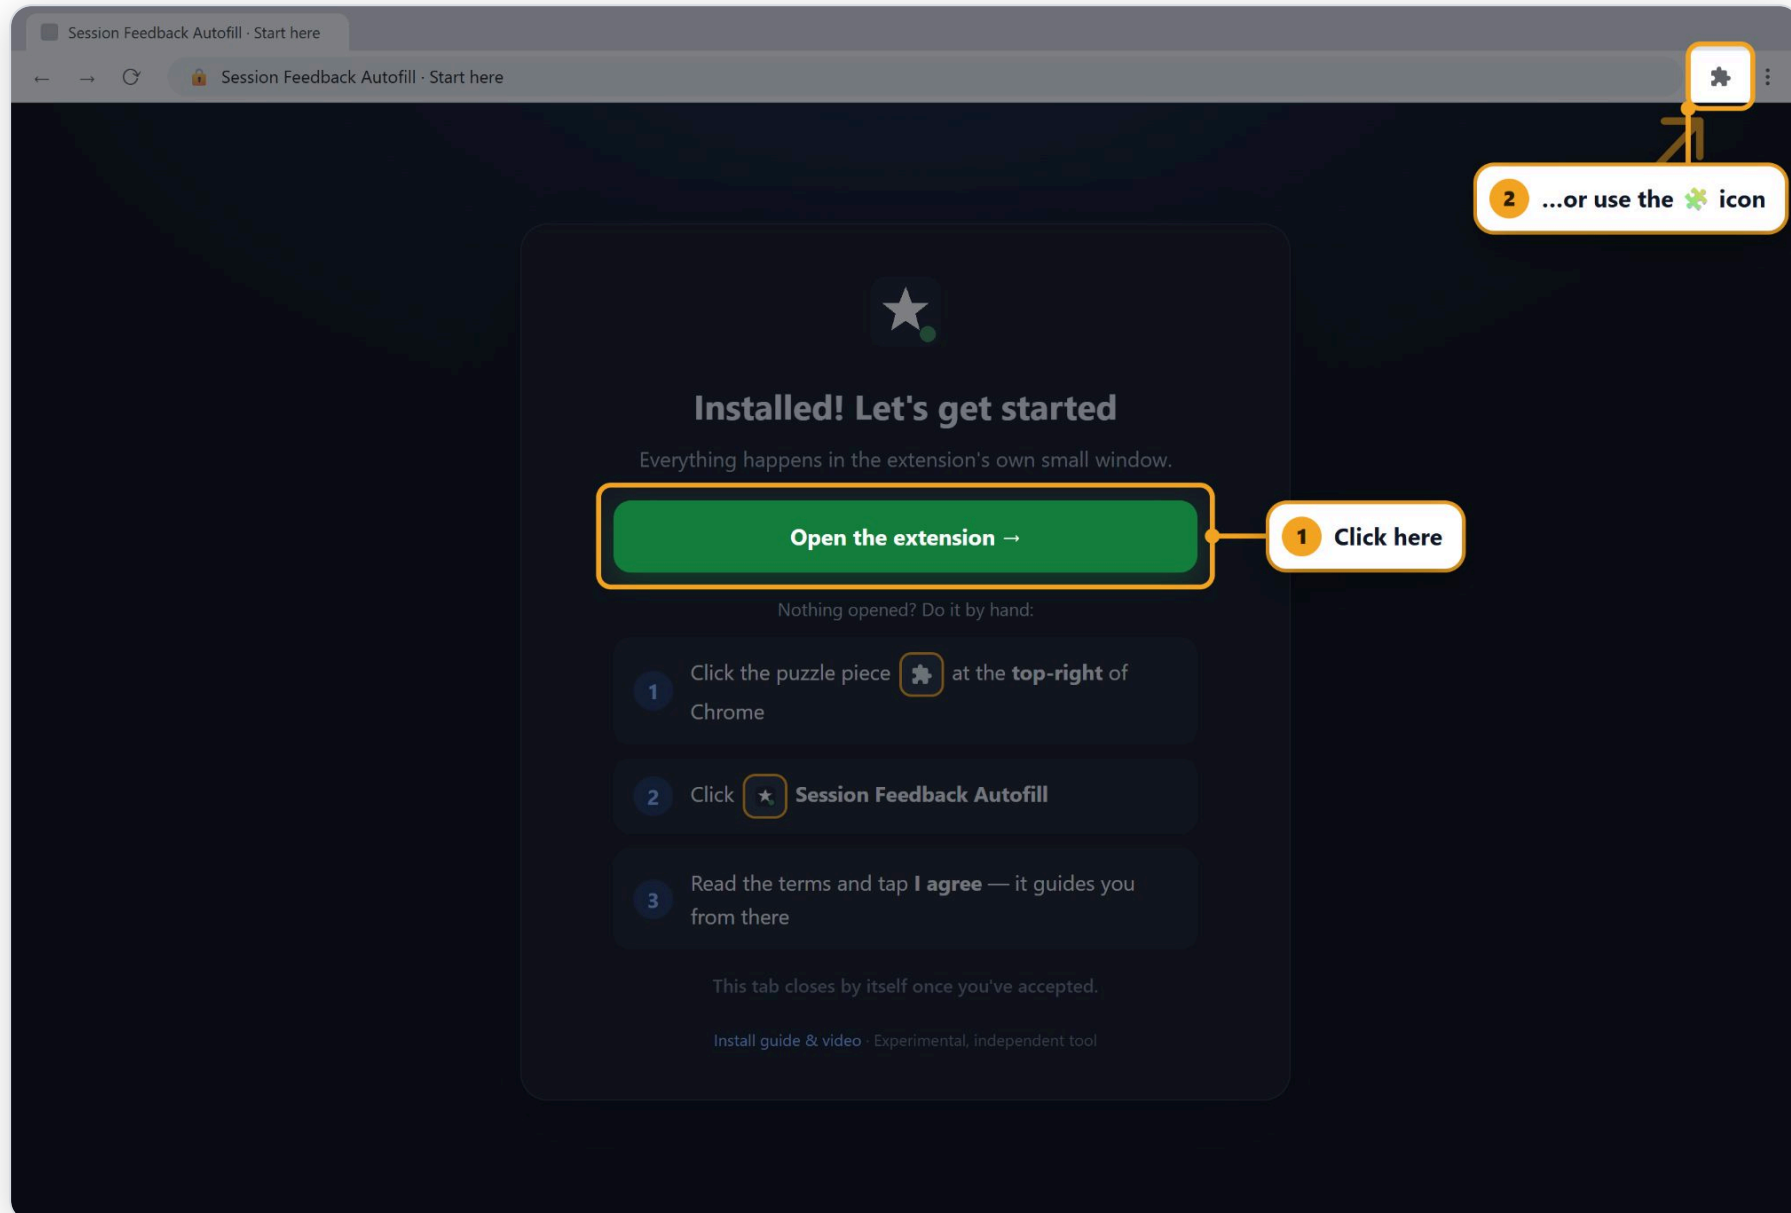

Set up

Accept the terms, pin it, activate your free submissions and switch it on for your feedback page.

7. Open the extension
8. Read & accept the terms
9. Pin it to your toolbar
10. Activate — 50 free submissions
11. Open the bot in Telegram
12. Press START
13. Activated!
14. Enable it on your feedback page
15. Click "Allow"

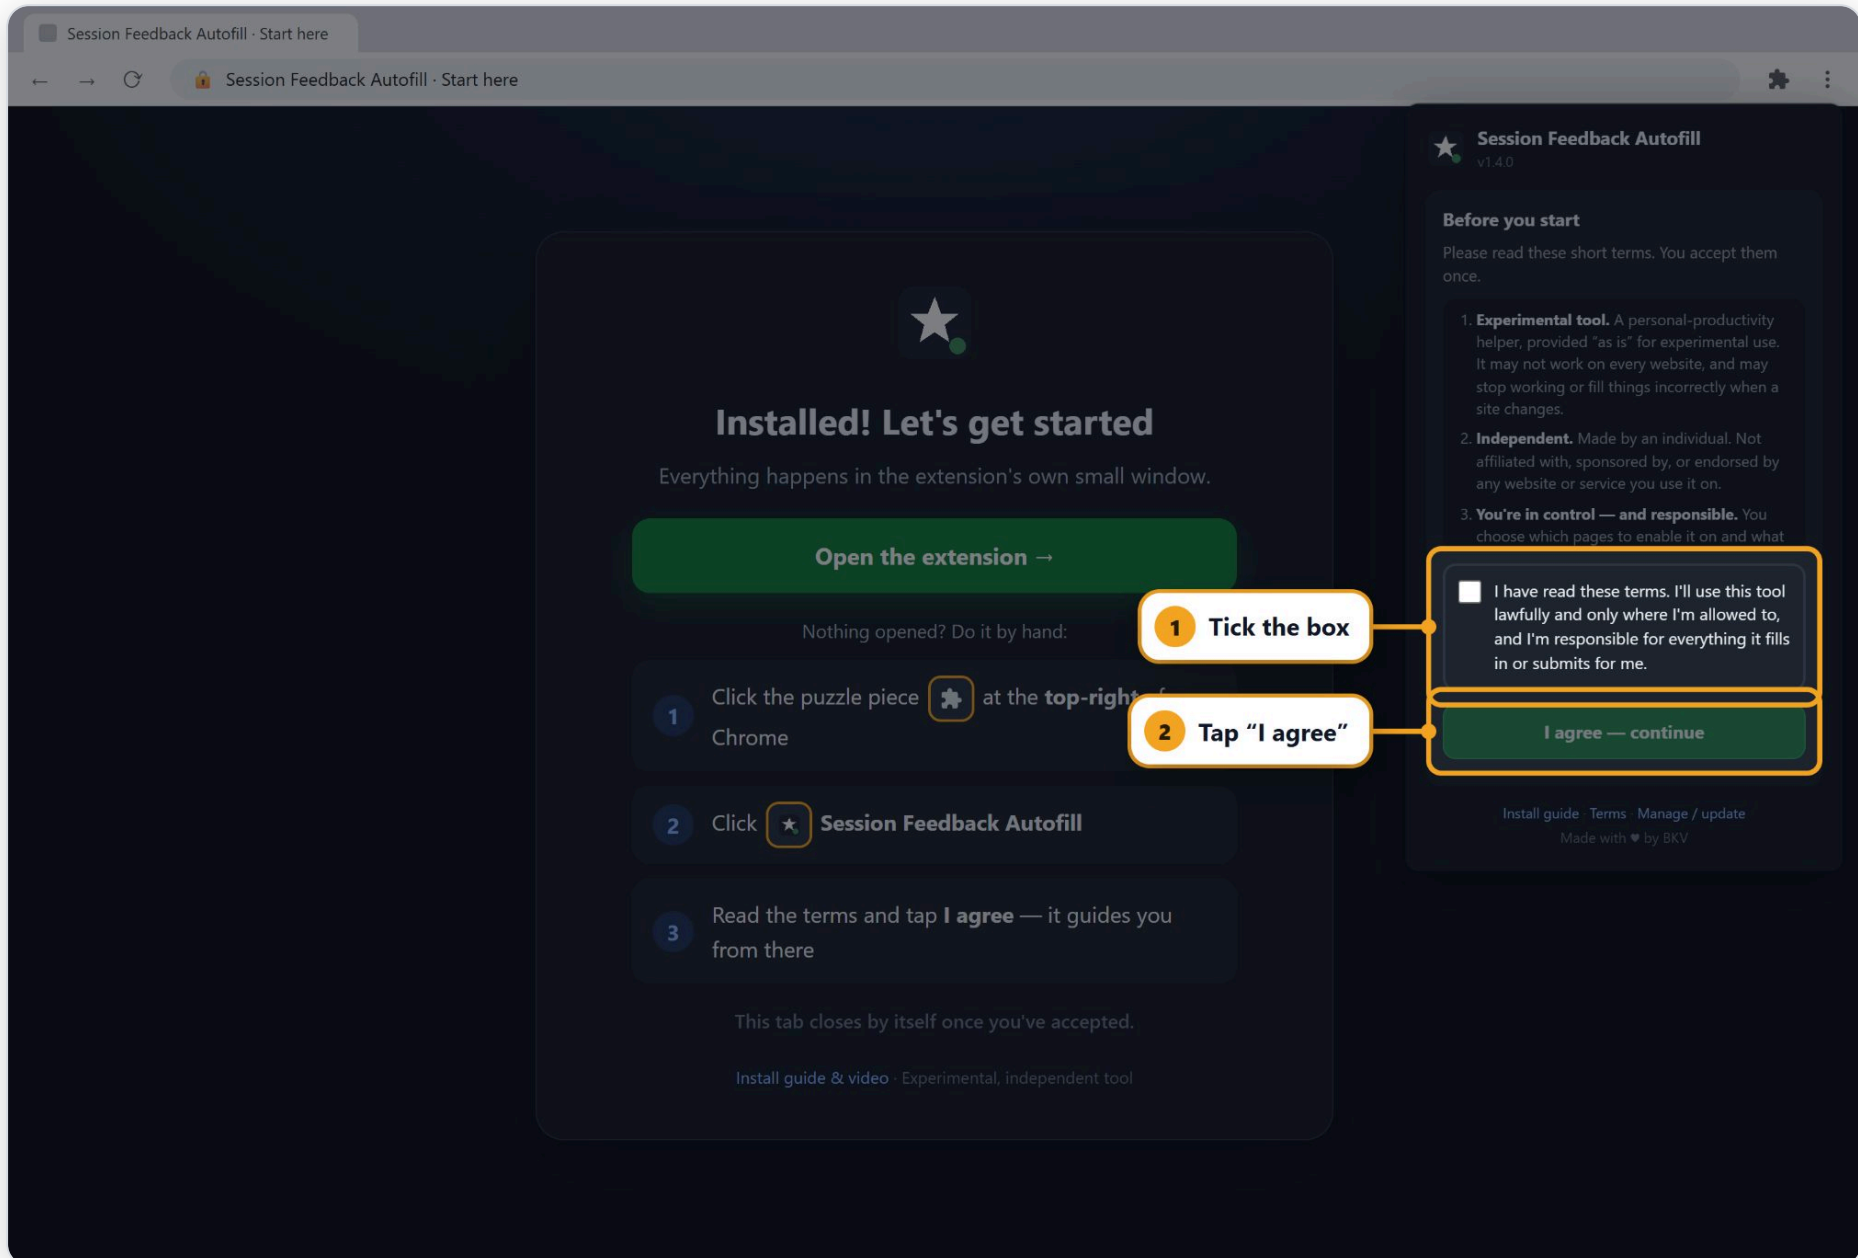

Open the extension

On the Start here tab, click Open the extension →. If nothing opens, click the puzzle-piece icon at the top-right and choose Session Feedback Autofill.

Read & accept the terms

The extension opens with its short terms. Read them, tick the box and tap I agree — continue. The Start here tab closes by itself.

Pin it to your toolbar

Click the puzzle-piece icon, then the pin next to Session Feedback Autofill. Now the extension is always one click away.

The screenshot shows the 'Session Feedback Autofill' website and its extension interface. The website, at `feedback-autofill.pages.dev`, features a star icon and the title 'Session Feedback Autofill'. The main heading is 'Session feedback, done in seconds.' followed by a description: 'A small browser extension that fills feedback forms for you. Pick a rating range and a few comments — it fills every pending session, each with its own random ratings.' Below this are buttons for 'Download extension', 'Help on Telegram', and version information 'v1.4.0 · Chrome & Edge · Windows / Mac'. It also displays '50 free submissions', 'Takes 2 minutes to install', and 'Nothing to sign up for'. A section titled 'Install in 6 steps' explains that the extension is not in the Chrome Web Store and provides instructions for manual installation. Step 1, 'Download and unzip', shows a file named 'session-feedback-autofill.zip' with an 'Extract All...' button. Step 2, 'Open the extensions page', shows the address bar with 'chrome://extensions' and a 'Copy' button. The extension interface on the right, titled 'Session Feedback Autofill v1.4.0', shows a 'Getting started' list with three steps: 'Pin this extension ✓', 'Activate — 50 free submissions' (which is highlighted with a yellow box and a callout), and 'Enable it on your feedback page'. The callout box says '→ Tap "Activate on Telegram"'. The extension interface also has a blue 'Activate on Telegram' button and links for 'Install guide', 'Terms', 'Manage / update', and 'Made with ♥ by: BKV'.

Enable it on your feedback page

Open the page with your feedback form. Click the ★ icon and tap Enable on this page. You only do this once.

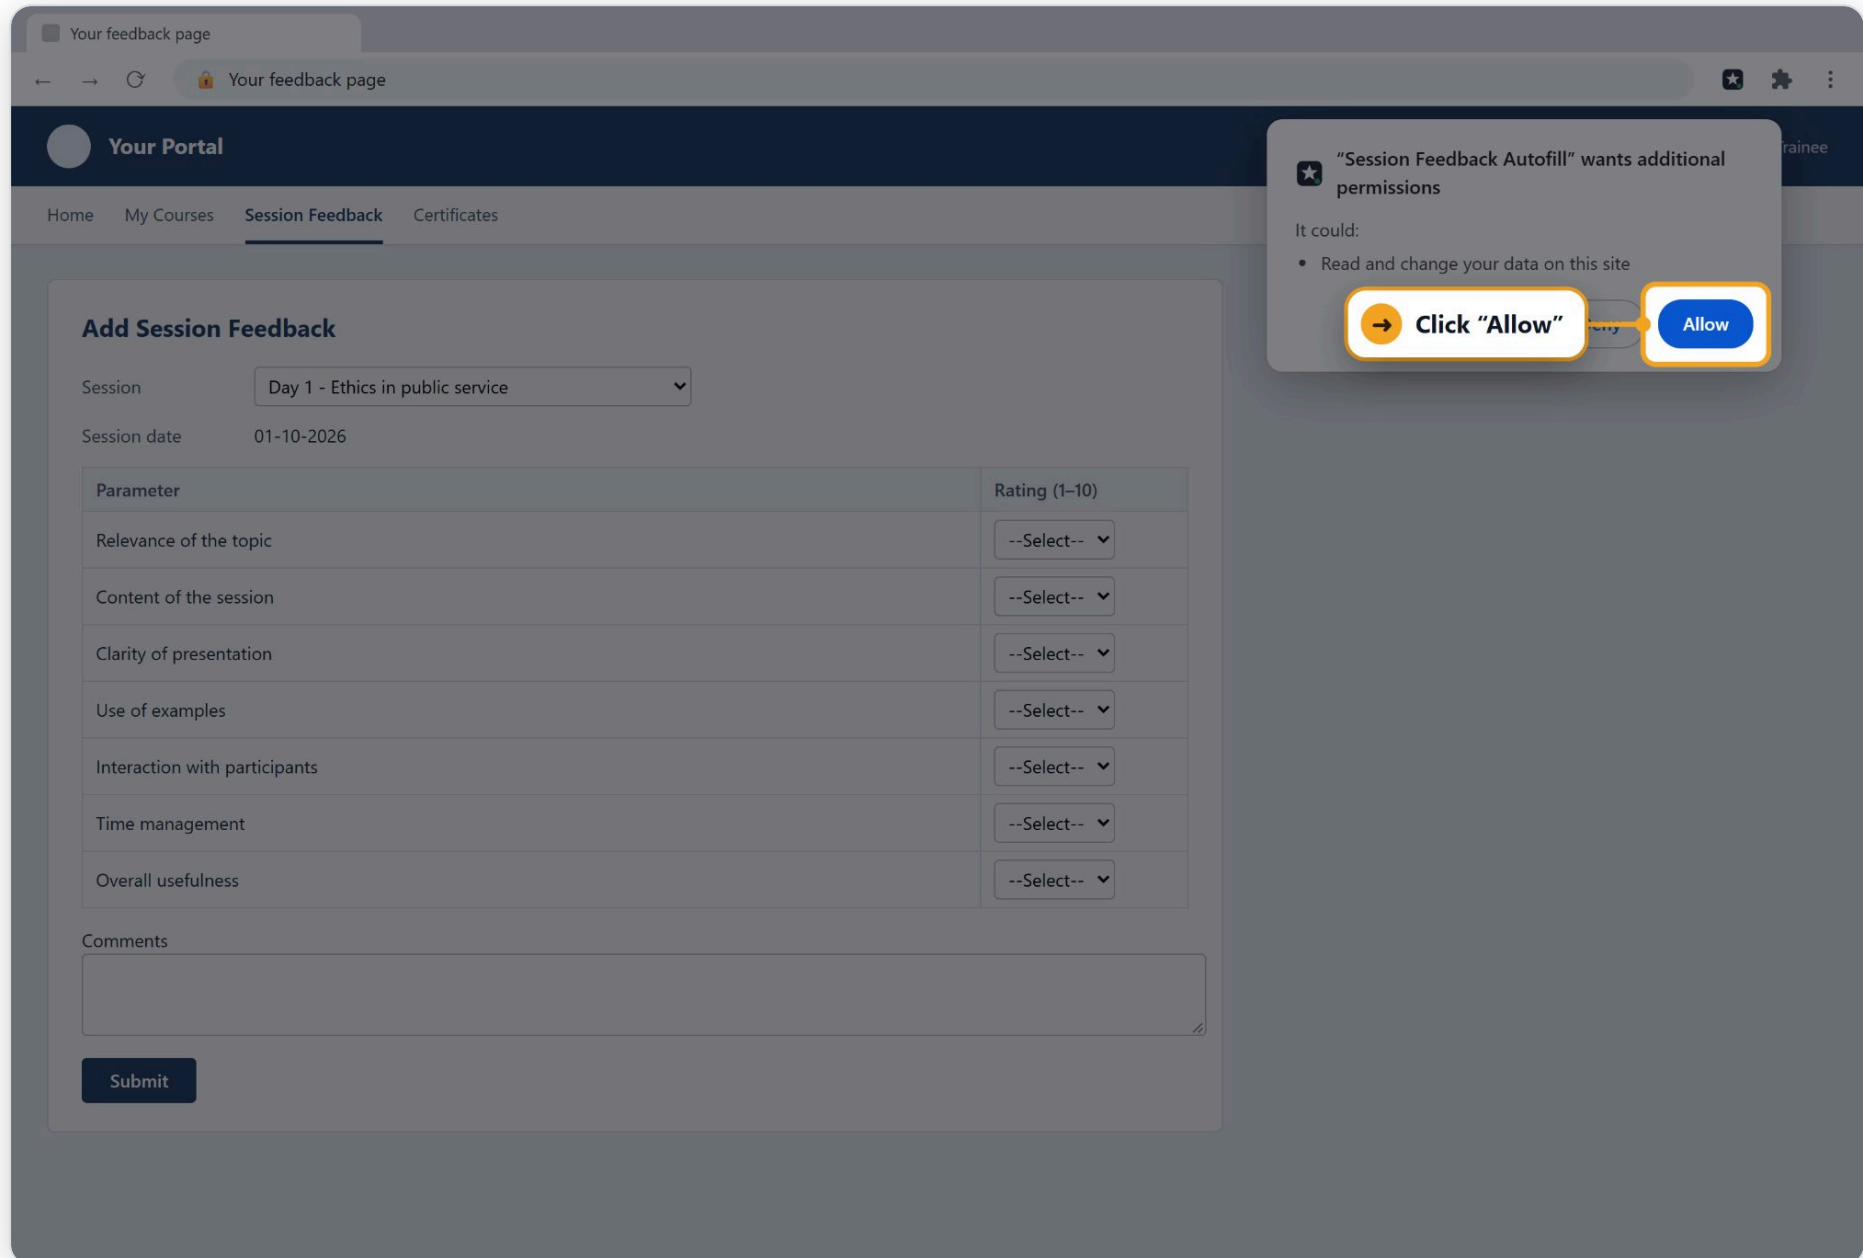

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying 'Your feedback page'. The page has a dark blue header with 'Your Portal' and navigation links: Home, My Courses, Session Feedback (active), and Certificates. The main content area is titled 'Add Session Feedback' and includes a dropdown for 'Session' (Day 1 - Ethics in public service) and a 'Session date' (01-10-2026). Below this is a table for feedback parameters:

Parameter	Rating (1–10)
Relevance of the topic
Content of the session	--Select--
Clarity of presentation	--Select--
Use of examples	--Select--
Interaction with participants	--Select--
Time management	--Select--

Choose ratings & comments

Pick a rating range (or a preset like 8–10) — each box gets its own random value in that range. Edit the comments, one per line. Then press Auto-run all.

The screenshot displays the 'Your feedback page' interface. The main form is titled 'Add Session Feedback' and includes a 'Session' dropdown set to 'Day 1 - Ethics in public service' and a 'Session date' of '01-10-2026'. Below these are several rows for feedback parameters, each with a rating dropdown menu. The parameters listed are: Relevance of the topic, Content of the session, Clarity of presentation, Use of examples, Interaction with participants, Time management, and Overall usefulness. At the bottom of the form is a 'Comments' text area and a 'Submit' button.

Overlaid on the right side of the form is the 'Feedback Autofill' panel. This panel contains three main sections:

- Rating range (or tap a preset below): This section shows a range of '8' to '10' selected, with other preset ranges like '6-8', '7-9', and '9-10' visible below it.
- Comments — one per line: This section shows a text area with the following comments: 'Nil', 'Good session.', 'Informative and useful.', and 'Well explained.'
- Fills every pending session: This section features a green 'Auto-run all' button, along with 'Fill only', 'Fill & Submit', and 'Stop' buttons.

Additional details in the 'Feedback Autofill' panel include a '50 left' indicator, a checkbox for 'Stop at future-dated sessions', and a status message: '6 sessions pending - now: Day 1 - Ethics in publi...'. At the bottom of the panel, there is an 'Install code PJ9CJE' and a link to 'Help on Telegram'.

Sit back — it's done

It fills and submits each pending session, one after another, and stops by itself. Press Stop any time.

The screenshot shows a web application interface for session feedback. The main form, titled 'Add Session Feedback', includes a 'Session' dropdown, a 'Session date' field, and a table for rating various parameters (Relevance of the topic, Content of the session, Clarity of presentation, Use of examples, Interaction with participants, Time management, Overall usefulness) on a scale of 1-10. Below the table is a 'Comments' text area and a 'Submit' button.

Overlaid on the right is a control panel with the following elements:

- 2 Submissions left: A label indicating the number of sessions remaining.
- 44 left: A green button to refresh the submission count.
- Rating range: A section with a note 'each box gets its own random value' and buttons for ranges: 6-8, 7-9, 8-10 (selected), and 9-10.
- Comments: A section with a note 'one per line, picked at random' and a text area containing: 'Nil', 'Good session.', 'Informative and useful.', 'Well explained.'
- ☒ Stop at future-dated sessions: A checkbox that is currently checked.
- No pending sessions on this page.: A status message.
- Fill only and Fill & Submit: Two buttons.
- Auto-run all (green) and Stop (red) buttons.
- 1 Every session it submitted: A label indicating the status of the auto-run process.
- Resuming auto-run (submitted so far: 6)... and Done — no pending sessions left. Submitted 6.: Status messages for the auto-run process.
- Install code PJ9CJE and Help on Telegram: Links at the bottom.

If something doesn't work

No "Feedback Autofill" button on the page

Open the page with your feedback form, click the ★ icon and check it says "✓ Enabled on this site". If not, tap Enable on this page → Allow. Then reload the page (F5).

The extension didn't open after installing

Click the puzzle-piece icon at the top-right of Chrome, then Session Feedback Autofill.

Chrome shows a "developer mode extensions" warning

That's normal for extensions added this way. Close it — it changes nothing.

"Can't reach the server"

Check your internet connection, then click the ★ icon again.

Updating to a new version

Download the new zip, extract it over the old folder, open chrome://extensions and press ↵ on the extension. Your submissions are kept.

Need help or more submissions?

Message @Sessionfeedbackbot on Telegram — include your install code (shown in the extension).

Terms of use (v2-2026-10-20)

1. Experimental tool. A personal-productivity helper, provided “as is” for experimental use. It may not work on every website, and may stop working or fill things incorrectly when a site changes.
2. Independent. Made by an individual. Not affiliated with, sponsored by, or endorsed by any website or service you use it on.
3. You're in control — and responsible. You choose which pages to enable it on and what it fills in. Use it only where you're allowed to, follow the rules of the websites you use, and check what you submit. You are responsible for everything it fills in or submits for you.
4. Not allowed: any unlawful use; using it with accounts or data you don't have permission to use; entering false or misleading information; overloading websites; copying, reselling or modifying the extension to get around its limits. Installs that break these rules can be suspended.
5. No warranty, limited liability. No guarantees of any kind. Our total liability is limited to what you paid us in the last 3 months (₹100 if you paid nothing), except where the law doesn't allow such a limit.
6. You cover misuse. If your misuse causes a claim against the makers, you agree to compensate them for it.
7. Paid submissions are a convenience service. If the service is shut down, unused paid submissions are refunded.
8. Changes. When these terms change, you'll be asked to accept the new version before your next submission.
9. Privacy. It never reads your passwords or what you type on websites. The server keeps only your install code, submission balance, the time and version you accepted, and — once you activate — your Telegram ID, username and first name. Your IP address is logged with a daily counter to prevent abuse. Your data is deleted on request.

Users tick: “I have read these terms. I'll use this tool lawfully and only where I'm allowed to, and I'm responsible for everything it fills in or submits for me.”
